

Food & Agribusiness Specialists

Our team of experts across 26 offices in Australia and New Zealand are specialist providers of risk and insurance services to organisations that contribute to the food supply chain ... from paddock to plate.

Deeper Understanding

JLT's specialisation in the Food and Agribusiness sector means that our clients benefit from our in-depth knowledge of issues impacting their operations. We take the time to fully understand the intricacies of your business, to ensure that you are provided with a customised and cost-effective solution.

Just one piece of the puzzle

We offer your organisation the opportunity to address your risks from a holistic perspective. We assist our clients beyond the evaluation of risk into the implementation of risk management plans across a broad spectrum. Our capabilities range from the evaluation of a client's insurable risks in Insurable Risk Profile (IRP) to our engagement on an Enterprise Risk Management (ERM) framework.

Our Workers' Compensation services take a total risk approach to the management of workplace injury risk to proactively and effectively manage your business' injuries and Workers' Compensation claims. Our specialist consultants work with your Food & Agribusiness organisation in designing preventative measures and injury prevention programmes, providing organisations with practical solutions for addressing Workers' Compensation cost drivers.

- Workers' Compensation Claims Management
- Occupational Rehabilitation
- OHS Consulting
- Health & Wellbeing Programs

We can offer your organisation the following employee benefits, facilitated by web based delivery systems:
